[Special Dispatch to the Transcript.]

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 8.—Allen G. Thurman in his extreme old age met with a fall today that it is feared will prove fatal.

It was last Friday ex-Senator Thurman fell from a sofa in his library and suffered an injury to his left hip which was very painful at times, but his physician found no bones broken, and though he suffered severely on Saturday he was better.

Sunday it was believed his strong natural constitution would enable him to stand the shock notwithstanding his great age. Tuesday he was so much better he wished to go to the polls to vote, but on the advice of his physician he did not do so. Wednesday he was much worse, and yesterday he fell into a stupor, from which it is altogether likely he will not recover. His son, Allen W. Thurman, said today there was little ground to hope he will live more than a few days and death may occur at any time.

FRIDAY AFTERNOON, NOV. 8, 1895.

AGAINST WOMAN SUFFRAGE.

In the victory and defeat of political candidates, little time has been given since Tuesday's elections to aught else than rejoicing or wailing. All else has been largely lost sight of in the glow of Republican victory or in the gloom of Democratic defeat.

But here in Massachusetts, one very important and much agitated question of public policy got a decision from the people, which is of great importance. It is the woman's suffrage question, and the decision against its adoption rendered by the voters of this state Tuesday is a great consequence to the woman suffrage advocates throughout the whole country, because it is the decision of the most enlightened and advanced state in the Union. It is the verdict of the most competent political jury in the United States.

The vote by close apportionment resulted as follows: Yes—women 16,457, men 31,233; total 47,690. No—women 739, men 184,071; total 191,810. The plurality of women for "yes" is 15,751; the plurality of men for "no" is 95,882; the majority against woman's suffrage in a vote of about 202,000, including 17,600 women's votes, is then about 77,000.

The result is a decisive verdict against woman's suffrage. The vote exceeds any ever cast upon any constitutional amendment submitted to the people of this state. In the light of this result, it must be said that the advocates of woman suffrage in Massachusetts have very much overestimated their own numbers as did the lower house of the legislature last year when it voted by a clear majority for a woman suffrage act. The people of this state are not yet ready to see the gentle sex forced into political duties. Men and women alike in the vote just had, have shown that men are yet believed capable of taking care of political matters without woman's help and without doing woman injustice.

It is likely that it will be some time before the woman suffrage question will again seriously force itself upon the public attention of the voters of Massachusetts.

WHAT THE ELECTION MEANS.

Although the exact height of the Republican wave which again swept over the country Tuesday has not yet been taken, and will not be till the official count has been completed, yet enough is known to conjecture what the people had in mind when they voted in a dozen states on Tuesday.

The election means that the country today is Republican at heart.

It means that the complete disgust engendered by the Gorman-Brice-Wilson congress still exists.

It means a general distrust of Democratic policy and measure.

It means that the people attribute the partial return to good times to Republican success at the polls rather than to Democratic legislation.

It means that the people would sooner trust the Republican than the Democratic party with the country's finances.

It means the condemnation of Mr. Cleveland's foreign policy.

It means the breaking up and staying broken of the solid South.

It means a Republican president, and a transfer of the whole concerns of government, state and national, to the Republican party as soon as the voters can accomplish it.

WHAT WE MAY EXPECT.

How many people of this vicinity know what to expect of the new normal school and its students? It will mean an influx of what sort of student life? How closely will the normal students come into contact with the people of the town? What do normal students study, how do they amuse themselves, what may we expect of them, and similar questions are questions we know to be asked by many people in North Adams. To answer these questions in a very small part and prepare for normal school life when it shall come among us we reprint here an item from the Westfield News-Letter called "Normal Notes." It throws a ray of light upon normal school life. It reads:

The students were allowed the use of the gymnasium Saturday night, for their weekly "hop." Quite a large number were present in spite of the inclement weather, including Mr. Greenough. A good time was enjoyed. The weather prevented an excursion of investigators to the "Atwater quarry" Saturday afternoon.—The young men have formed a committee for the purpose of organizing a debating society, which will meet bi-monthly. There are many questions pertaining to school management, school laws, etc., besides other live topics on which it is valuable for a teacher to be present.

Mr. Crosby's letter of congratulation and good feeling written to Mr. Fuller is indeed a pleasant incident in closing the lively sheriff campaign. It is indicative of the inborn courtesy and manliness of Mr. Crosby, and it does him credit as a public man. The fact of Mr. Crosby's writing this letter reminds us of Garfield's remark about a generous act of General Hancock in the presidential campaign of 1860. Garfield said in speaking of Hancock's action that some of the fairest flowers in life hung over the political fences that separated parties and candidates from each other. Mr. Crosby has proved the truthfulness of the remark.

CO-OPERATIVE BANK, C. W. FORD
SILK VELVETS, SAMUEL CULY & CO.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

—The Dry club will hold a social and dance in its room this evening.

—Clan McIntyre will hold a meeting tomorrow night and a number of members will be initiated.

—The members of Hose 2 will have a social and dance in their hose room on Centre street Thanksgiving eve.

—M. S. Rosenberry, who has been with the American Clothing company for some time, has left for Montpelier, Vt., to take charge of the firm's store there.

—H. J. Whitney has moved from his old home on Holden street, which he recently sold to Sanford, post, into M. R. Ford's house on Bradford street.

—J. H. Flagg's new house on State street has received the first coat of plaster and will soon be finished. Mr. Flagg expects to move into the house in December.

—The meeting of the Painters' and Decorators' last night was not largely attended. Matters of interest to the union were discussed but no definite action was taken.

—The regular monthly meeting of the Northern Berkshire Medical association will be held in the Wilson house parlors Tuesday evening of next week at 5 o'clock. Dr. Dewey will entertain.

—The Meadow street sewer is being extended up the hill nearly to East Quincy street. The water main will be extended down the hill from East Quincy street as far as F. A. Johnson's new house.

—Clark, a half-back of the Williams college football team, is coaching the Dury team this week and a more favorable result is anticipated when Dury again meets Williamstown's high school team.

—Lemuel Rich is about to build three cottages on Rock street, one on a lot bought of Charles Mallory and two on land formerly owned by P. J. Ashe. Mr. Rich is also building a number of houses in Houghtonville.

—The young sons of J. A. Bond and W. H. Sperry were having a happy time this morning driving Samuel Groves' donkey. They had the animal hitched to a small wagon and there was not a man in town prouder of his rig than the boys were of theirs.

—Henry Lane, Dr. Brown's gardener, has placed in Jeweler Dickenson's window a lot of fine chrysanthemums as has been exhibited in town. He sent a fine bunch to the hospital, where they were very much appreciated.

—Special electric cars will be run from Adams at the conclusion of the Company M ball held there this evening. Three private cars have been engaged by local parties and quite a number from this town will probably attend the ball.

—A shed for the storage of raw wool is being erected at the Linwood mills. The new structure will be 80 by 60 feet. The building, formerly a shuttle factory, which has been used for storing wool for a number of years, will be hereafter used as a machine shop.

—Residents of South State street will try to have a street light located somewhere in the neighborhood of J. H. Flagg's new house. Many people get on and off the street cars at that point and it is said there have been several narrow escapes from accident owing to the darkness.

—Two boys got a fighting in an entry way on State street last night and caused considerable of a rumpus. Their shouts attracted a large crowd and a policeman. The coming of the officer was incompatible to a continuation of the entertainment and the fight ceased and the crowd dispersed.

—At a meeting held last night the Republican town committee decided to call ward caucuses for Tuesday, November 26, to elect a city committee of three from each ward, and seven delegates from each ward to nominate candidates for city offices at a convention to be held at the city hall Saturday, November 30.

—The great fair opening will take place at Tuttle & Bryant's tomorrow, when a representative of one of the leading fur houses of the country will be present with a large exhibit of furs and skins. The carpet room will be given up to this exhibit, which will be one of great interest to the ladies.

—Those of our townspeople who have been so fortunate as to see Miss McCobb in her inimitable impersonation of Mrs. Jarley speak enthusiastically of her success. She will appear under the auspices of the Friendly society next Tuesday evening at the parish house at 8:15. Tickets for sale by members of the society. Admission fifty cents. Reserved seats are to be had at Wilson house drug store without extra charge.

—All advertisers who wish to avail themselves of the columns of the woman's edition of the Hoosac Valley news, and who have not already done so, should send their "ads" immediately to Mrs. C. H. Cutting. So remarkable an opportunity for reaching a very large number of people is rarely offered to advertisers in this vicinity, as the 12,000 copies of the woman's edition will be read by many thousands of people.

—A good suggestion was made on Main street this morning to this effect: When a bonfire is built on a public thoroughfare the debris should be removed, either by those building the fire or by the road commissioners. Barrel hoops and charred boards invariably mark the spot in the morning and the quantity of nails strewn about the ground is dangerous to horses. Numerous cases have occurred of horses getting nails into their feet from this source.

—There have been received at the post office from First Assistant Postmaster General Jones a number of large cards containing useful information for those who send Christmas presents through the mails. This practice is growing more common every year and a great many packages are sent by mail to the old countries. These cards will be posted in public places and by observing the instructions they give, those who use the mails for sending merchandise, etc., may save much inconvenience and delay.

—George A. Lord of Springfield is in town inspecting steam boilers and examining engineers and firemen, and he will be here until he finishes the work in this district. Mr. Lord is doing this work under the law that was enacted last winter. The state does not require him to work after 5 p. m., but for the accommodation of men who are not employed, he will examine them in the evening. His days are occupied at the different mills and where steam boilers and engines are used. Mr. Lord's headquarters are at the Mansion house.

—Mr. and Mrs. John F. Dick desire to sincerely thank their many friends for the many kindly acts and expressions of tender sympathy extended to them in their bereavement.

BOSTON STORE

Taylor & Gow.

(Successors to W. J. Taylor.)

Nothing succeeds like success. Judging from the crowds that poured into our store the last week the new firm has struck an era of success beyond our best anticipation. Our A'm: Good goods at lowest prices and strictly one price.

The rally to our Cloak Department seems unabated. New goods arrive daily and of course the latest styles. We keep the prices down. Our stock of Furs,--that is, what is left of the cyclone, will be closed out cheap.

APRONS. A manufacturer needed the cash and we got the goods at a price that just suited us and of course will suit you, about 50 dozen of them in all; a small lot for us yet a good pick for our customers. We will sell the lot at a price that will make things quick. 24c choice of one lot, better qualities at a little advance in price. Come early before the best are taken up.

Other special Bargains we almost forgot to mention. Ladies' Shopping Bags 25c, Men's all wool Hose 15c a pair, 75c Carsit for 49c, good Blankets 49c a pair, a great big Linen Towel Damask, usual price 50c, a few at 24c. These prices good for Friday and Saturday.

Happenings of Interest in Our Neighbor Towns.

ADAMS.

All Night Work at the Mill.

The time for finishing the Berkshire mill contract is limited and the contractors have decided to work day and night, for a time at least. Electric lights have been put up and an extra lot of men at work. In this way great progress will be made.

Everything Ready for the Ball.

Every little detail in the arrangements for tonight's big ball has been completed. The attendance is expected to be very large and the Armory will have a fitting dedication. The concert will be at 8 o'clock sharp and the grand march will form immediately afterwards. Supper is to be served in the basement of the building. Special cars will run to and from North Adams.

Pauperism on the Decrease.

There are now about seventy persons receiving aid directly or indirectly from the town, whereas a year ago there were about 200. Although the number of families is smaller, the proportionate cost per family is much larger than before as there are several large families. The cost to the town however is not quite half what it was at that time. There are occasional calls for help from the relief association, which has been since its organization a great help to the town.

Cut Off Three Fingers.

Leroy Dunham, employed in the card room of Adams Bros.' mill, was cleaning a lapping machine Thursday afternoon and caught his hand in the gearing. The fingers were badly crushed and Dr. H. B. Holmes amputated three of them.

November's Donchon's magazine contains a picture of Michael Powers of this town, one of the best college base ball catchers in the country, who has captained the Holy Cross nine for two seasons.

Peter Magowan, employed at Berkshire mill No. 3, dropped an iron grate on his left hand Thursday and injured it in such a way that Dr. Boon, who attended him was obliged to amputate the top of one finger.

John Roddy, while making a horseshoe at Bliss' blacksmith shop Thursday, was struck on the head by a piece of steel which chipped off. An artery was severed and bled profusely until stopped by Dr. Boom.

This morning Assistant Superintendent P. J. Stanton of the Metropolitan Insurance company, paid Maggie Kerr's parents $115, the face of a policy held on her life.

F. C. Graham of Albany is a guest of Dr. A. K. Boom.

Adolph Koch was in court this morning charged with assault and was discharged.

John Garvey of Pittsfield was in town last night.

Foster E. Upshaw was in Pittsfield Thursday on business.

Leono Brothers will be at the opera house Saturday afternoon and evening. In the afternoon they will present the new "Uncle Tom's Cabin," and in the evening, "The Dog Spy."

Rev. Fr. Moran laid the first stone on the foundation of the new Catholic church at 7 o'clock Thursday morning and Contractor P. J. Barrett is making considerable progress. A. M. Murphy of Providence, R. I., nephew of the architect, is representing his uncle at the work. Mr. Shes of the firm of Toomey & Shea, who has the contract, is here.

George Boulier, roll-coverer at Plumb & Son's mill, has a very sore hand caused by constant pressure on the palm of a screwdriver which he uses in his work.

Good For Provision.

PROVIDENCE, Nov. 8.—The annual report of the Boston city hospital shows that there were 8004 patients admitted during 1894. Of this number 7056 were discharged and 964 died. The total expenditure was $261,533.03.

Boston Hospital Figures.

BOSTON, Nov. 8.—The annual report of the Boston city hospital shows that there were 8004 patients admitted during 1894. Of this number 7056 were discharged and 964 died. The total expenditure was $261,533.03.

Weavers on Strike.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Nov. 8.—One hundred weavers at the Narragansett mill struck yesterday because lists of their work were posted in the weaveroom. They claim that owing to the diversity of work, all were not given a fair showing in the lists.

A Postoffice Robber.

BOSTON, Nov. 8.—Benjamin W. Jones of Providence, a student of Brown university, was arraigned here yesterday for breaking and entering the postoffice at Plainville, Mass. He was sentenced to six months' imprisonment in Barnstable jail.

PROVIDENCE, Nov. 8.—The board of aldermen last night appropriated $190,000 for a new high school building. The site has already been selected and paid for.

New England Briefs.

Schooner Laughing Water of Portland, Me., is lost.

A third attempt was made by burglars to blow open the safe in the postoffice at Wiscasset, Me.

The New Haven and Hartford and Boston and Albany railroads make fine records of increased earnings for the September quarter.

Queer Laws, Indeed.

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., Nov. 8.—Residents of the whole colony, apart from this city, are indignant over the different procedure adopted with smuggling offenders in the city and outside. Nine men arrested at Berlin have been sentenced to imprisonment without a chance of having counsel. But here, lawyers, adjournments, appeals and every formality are permitted, and now it is probable that defective indictments, whether deliberately drawn or otherwise, will enable all of these to escape jail.

Brooklyn Petitions.

BROOKLYN, Nov. 8.—Edward M. Grout says: "When I am satisfied that Mr. Wurster is honestly elected I shall be the first to congratulate him. But I am now in possession of evidence which looks very like fraud in the count, and that evidence not only indicates the nature of the fraud and the purpose for which it is being done, but also gives me indication of the persons who are concerned in it." Mr. Grout was pressed for particulars, but refused to say anything more.

CHESTER.

Tests for Tuberculosis.

Mr. C. A. Deppen of the board of cattle commissioners of Boston is in town with four as islands to test the several dairies and herds here, that have been requested by their owners to be tested. He came to Berkshire county hoping to be able to finish his duties here and at other places where he has been called to visit and test. He goes from here to Lee, Lenox, Dale, Sheffield and Dalton. He tested yesterday herds for east part farmers as follows: Card, eight; Jecks, seventeen; C. J. Fales, twenty-three; Edward Phelps, sixteen. The day before he tested seventy-one at Marlboro. Today he will test for Granville Eliza and D. Collins and any others who may order.

The stock on the Cole farm at the east part, now owned by H. B. Crandall of Boston, will also go through a regular examination for this disease of tuberculosis. There are over 150 herds ordered to be tested not yet visited in the state. The official estimates the value of the

MORTON GETS A BOOM

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—An analysis of the result of Tuesday's elections, somewhat superficial necessarily, shows that the chances of certain ambitious gentlemen who expected to figure in the national conventions this summer have been snuffed out by the falling of the ballots, while the chances of others have measurably increased.

In New York the big Republican majority brings Governor Morton very conspicuously to the front as a Republican presidential candidate. The carrying of the state by $10,000 for the Republican ticket makes Mr. Platt the all-important personage in the ranks of the party, but even Mr. Platt is not big enough to ignore the Morton sentiment.

How far will this affect Mr. Reed's prospects? The impression has been gathering ground here that Platt and Quay had a good understanding as to what they were going to do with the delegates from their respective states, and that Mr. Reed was the man on whom they had centered. Now, all these schemes may have to be revised, and the nomination of Reed may not be so easy.

Of course the all-important question comes in at this time as to how much Republican success really stands for, and will the states which went Republican repeat the performance a year hence?

The answer is purely a speculative one, and yet certain safe deductions may be drawn. No one need fear that either Kentucky or Maryland will stay in the Republican column.

Understanding the facts and appreciating them at their true value, there are Democrats in Washington who are not discouraged because the two border states were captured by the Republicans. In the one, in Maryland, a political boss was rebuked. In the other, in Kentucky, the defeat of the head of the ticket was a negative endorsement of the financial policy of the administration.

But New York is not so encouraging. The Democrats were united and the personal liberty excise plank was considered a great card. That really was about the only issue before the people, and yet the Republicans were able to carry the state by a large majority, while the Tammany majority in New York city was too modest to carry about.

A Boom For McKinley.

Ohio's 100,000 majority gives the McKinley boom a tremendous impetus, and eliminated ex-Governor Campbell as a factor in the presidential equation. The tariff was distinctly an issue before the voters of Ohio. McKinley's friends may well claim that he has been endorsed. If Campbell had carried the state, or even cut down the Republican majority, he would have been a strong presidential candidate; as it is, he has paid the penalty of failure.

Tuesday's action has done one thing if nothing else. It closed the political careers of Senators Hill and Bristo, and it may have sounded the knell for Senator Gorham.

Woman Missionaries Have Overcome Many Great Obstacles.

Establishment of the Mission on Mt. Silinda

BOSTON, Nov. 8.—At the closing sessions of the 25th annual meeting of the Woman's Board of Missions the following officers were elected: Honorary president, Mrs. Albert Bowker; president, Mrs. G. Judson Clark; Mrs. D. K. Allen; Mr. J. O. Means; Mr. E. Strong; Mrs. J. L. Barton; Mrs. C. C. Crosgan; Mrs. C. H. Daniels; Mr. Lemuel Gulliver; Mrs. J. A. Copp; corresponding secretaries, Mrs. Joseph Cook; Mrs. J. O. Means; Mrs. E. Strong; Miss L. M. Fay; recording secretary, Mrs. S. Brainard Pratt; home secretary, Miss A. B. Child; secretary of the bureau of exchange, Miss E. Harriet Stanwood; secretary for junior work, Miss K. G. Langdon; field secretary, Miss A. M. Kyle; treasurer, Miss Ellen Garth; assistant treasurer, Miss H. W. May; auditor, Samuel F. Wilkins, and 27 directors.

"Gazaland, Central Africa, 1873-1895," was the theme of the paper read by Miss H. G. Gilson of Walpole, N. H. "While it is only two years," she said, "since the feet of Christian women first trod the slopes of Mount Silinda, yet the East Central African Mission has behind it a history of 20 years."

Miss Gilson's paper described the difficulties encountered in attempting to effect a permanent settlement in Uzungwa's kingdom, attempting which all met with but very limited success.

Finally Cecil Rhodes, the president of the British South African Chartered company, learning of the offered them a large tract of land in Gazaland, west of Uzungwa's old kraal. He chose the sight of the mission on Mt. Silinda. Ten Americans, including four ladies and two children, with 11 Zulu assistants, left Natal in June, 1883, to make Christian homes hundreds of miles from all civilization, and in the midst of the darkest heathenism.

Most of the time for six weeks the women and children were in a small crowd, but in the day time going up the Buzi river and the nights were spent on shore in tents or native huts. When the rapids in the river made it impossible for them to go farther with their boats, they walked 160 miles through grass above their heads, climbing steep hills and fording streams.

Before they reached Mt. Silinda they had gained great influence over some of the boys whom they employed as carriers. The missionaries and Zulu Evangelists soon had regular preaching places on the Sabbath, and one station has grown into three.

A PROSPEROUS QUARTER.

Fall River Mills Make a Fine Showing on Dividends.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Nov. 8.—G. M. Haffards & Co.'s last report of the mill dividends for the quarter ending with October shows that on a total capital of $21,368,000 dividends amounting to $40,750 were paid, the average per cent being slightly over 2.05. The average dividend for the July quarter was 1.87 per cent, and for the April quarter 1.72 per cent.

The last quarter has been a very prosperous one; only four corporations passed dividends, two have old and small mills and are much out of date. The Fall River manufacturer has recently spent a large sum in thoroughly equipping with new machinery. The Barnaby Manufacturing company, the fourth to pass, makes some of the finest gingham in the country, and has not had a good business lately.

The Bourne, just over the line in Rhode Island, has continued to do a great business, and paid dividends amounting to 9 per cent, 8 per cent in each month. The Troy was next, with 6 per cent on its earnings, aside from the extra dividend. Union and Wampanoag paid 3 per cent cash. Osborne paid 2% per cent, 19 paid 2 per cent, and only 1 of those declaring dividends paid as low as 1 per cent.

THE BOSTON HERALD

Three Sessions.

Christian Workers Hold Their Annual Convention at Hartford.

NEW HAVEN, Nov. 8.—About 250 delegates to the Christian Workers' convention were present when the ninth annual convention of the societies of the United States and Canada opened in this city. The morning session was largely devoted to a series of welcomes from the local organizations.

Rev. R. A. Torrey of Chicago presided, and conducted a preliminary prayer and praise service. Governor Collin welcomed the delegates for the state of Connecticut. Rev. D. M. James of Fairhaven delivered the welcome for the local clergy. Mayor Hendrik was unable to be present, but his address was read by Rev. John C. Collins, secretary of the association. For Yale university Professor W. L. Blackman of the divine school welcomed the delegates, and for the local executive committee John T. Manson of this city delivered the address.

The afternoon session was devoted to an informal discussion of general Christian work. In the evening there were addresses on "Christian Evidences," by P. B. Crook of Berwick, Me.; "Christian Testimonies," by A. H. Rice of New York; and "Testimony of the Land to the Book, or the Evidential Value of Palestine," by Rev. David Gregg, D. B., of Brooklyn.

Railroad Company Won.

BOSTON, Nov. 8.—The Boston and Albany railroad, defendant in a suit brought by George R. Lyman, administrator of H. C. Ives, late of Chicago, to recover a penalty for injuries Mr. Lyman sustained in the Chester accident, won a victory in the United States court. The case was a test one, as Mr. Lyman was riding on a pass at the time of the accident. This latter fact, and the claim that the court had no jurisdiction to enforce a penalty exacted by the state of Massachusetts, formed the substance of a demurmer which was sustained by Judge Carpenter.

Killed His Sister.

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., Nov. 8.—As a result of playing with firearms, Charles Biddle, 17, last night shot and killed his 11-year-old sister, Estella, at their home. He put a shot into one barrel of a double-barreled shotgun aimed at his sister and shouted: "Look out, Estella." He meant to pull the trigger of the empty barrel, but made a mistake, and the charge of heavy shot struck the little girl in the head, blowing half of it away. The child died almost instantly.

Mill Owners' New Move.

PROVIDENCE, Nov. 8.—One hundred and fifty operatives from Michigan and Wisconsin have arrived at Olyneville to take the place of strikers dropped in the Atlantic mills. The arrivals are camped in the big building and fed by a public canteen. The new help represented many nations; all are green hands and will be distributed through the mills for instruction by the old hands.

RUSSIA IS WIDE AWAKE

Situation Grows More Critical Day by Day.

Another Story From the Porto Throwing Blows Upon Armenians.

LONDON, Nov. 8.—At the closing sessions of the 25th annual meeting of the Woman's Board of Missions the following officers were elected: Honorary president, Mrs. Albert Bowker, president, Mrs. G. Judson Clark; Mrs. D. K. Allen, Mr. J. O. Means, Mr. E. Strong; Mrs. J. L. Barton, Mrs. C. C. Crosgan, Mrs. C. H. Daniels, Mr. Lemuel Gulliver, Mrs. J. A. Copp; corresponding secretaries, Mrs. Joseph Cook; Mrs. J. O. Means, Mrs. E. Strong; Miss L. M. Fay; recording secretary, Mrs. S. Brainard Pratt; home secretary, Miss A. B. Child; secretary of the bureau of exchange, Miss E. Harriet Stanwood; secretary for junior work, Miss K. G. Langdon; field secretary, Miss A. M. Kyle; treasurer, Miss Ellen Garth; assistant treasurer, Miss H. W. May; auditor, Samuel F. Wilkins, and 27 directors.

The now ministry was officially announced yesterday afternoon as follows: Said Pasha, minister of the council; Abdurrahman Pasha, minister of justice; Mudash Pasha, minister of the interior; Gared Pasha, minister of worship; Zuhail Pasha, minister of education; Mahmud Djedid Pasha, minister of commerce and works; S. Sordi Pasha, minister of finance; Aarif Pasha, minister without portfolio.

About Tewfik Pasha.

The Berlin correspondent of The Times says that Tewfik Pasha, the new Turkish minister of foreign affairs: While he, Tewfik displayed no qualities fitting him to be a good foreign minister. He has won the sultan's confidence by the timely detection of palace plots, and he is likely to be a docile palace instrument. It looks, therefore, as if the sultan was thinking more of his own safety than of the gravity of the political situation.

A dispatch to The Standard from Vienna says that it is believed that changes in the Turkish ministry are intended to avenge Mohammedan disaffection, and are not a demonstration against England although Kamil Pasha, the out-going grand vizier, was the most pro-English of the past.

The Constantinople correspondent of The Standard sends an interview with Said Pasha, in which he says he could not claim that the Turkish administration was snow-white, but it was certainly not as black as it was painted.

The ministers, he said, were working hard to carry out the scheme of reforms, and counted upon England's generosity not to increase the difficulties by encouraging the revolutionary Armenians, who, instead of being grateful for the concessions that have been made, were in open revolt throughout the country.

Driven to Desperation.

The Daily News' Constantinople correspondent admits that the Moslem attack has aroused such a spirit of opposition and despair among the Armenians that it would be difficult to allow them to be killed quietly, as at Trebizond and Akhissar, the Armenians themselves commenced the attack at Zeyoun, Erzroom and elsewhere, besides making ill-advised and mischievous demonstrations in Constantinople.

It will take years, this correspondent continues, to revive confidence and trade and commerce lost through the present condition of anarchy, due to the deplorable weakness and inaction of the government.

As an instance of this, the correspondent cites the fact that A. W. Terrell, United States minister, has been trying for two months to obtain permission for United States Consul Poole, at Aleppo, to see an American citizen of Armenian origin who has been sent to prison there.

It is pointed out that Minister Terrell has secured orders from the two grand viziers to the local authorities at Aleppo to grant this permission, which had either been rescinded before the consul had an opportunity to act upon it, or has been disregarded by the local governor, the desired result being evaded rather than refused.

This is the more remarkable, The Daily News' correspondent observes, because Mr. Terrell has considerable personal influence at the port. Yet now, after demanding the dismissal of the vizier at Aleppo, or that the port itself should assume responsibility for refusal, he has only succeeded in getting an order for the prisoner to be brought here.

Kamil Pasha, the retiring grand vizier, has been appointed wali of Aleppo, to succeed the official who has held that place during Mr. Terrell's efforts to secure an interview with the prisoner.

The only hopeful sign in the outlook, according to the opinion of The Daily News' correspondent, is the report that the troops at Erzroom, under Shaikh Pasha, high commissioner, to enforce the Armenian reforms, have attacked a Moslem mob, which had formed with a purpose of doing mischief to the Armenians. If this is confirmed, the correspondent thinks, it will show that Turkey desires that the massacres shall cease.

Another Bluff?

The following telegram from the sub-lime port, under Nov. 8 date, has been sent to Washington:

All news concerning plots threatening letters and supposed dissatisfaction in the ranks of the army and navy is intentionally propagated by well-known newspaper correspondents affiliated with the Armenian committee to alarm public opinion. As for the oft-repeated assertion of the intended extermination of the Armenians, it is too absurd to be contradicted. The efforts of the imperial government tend, on the contrary, to quell the revolt of the Armenians and to resist their criminal and bloody agitation.

The Armenian agitation at Diarbekir was on the point of subduing when the Armenians began again their attacks upon the Mussulmans by throwing bombs at them, and by firing at the Mezzines at the very time when the latter were calling the faithful to prayers. During the affray, 50 Mussulmans and 90 Armenians were killed and wounded.

Armenian rioters attacked the patrols at Sirik, killing a few Mussulmans, and setting fire to the bazaar. Two hundred Armenian revolutionaries, having at their head Kevrok, chief of the parish of Ferug (Marsh), attacked the village of Tchoukou Hisar, and killed 15 Mussulmans. Some of the agitators were arrested, including part of the Armenian brigands who captured Hajji Hassan Ogot Husni.

All news published as to the occurrence of trouble at Adana, Tarsus and Mersina is absolutely without foundation.

Clothing Strike Ended.

ROCHESTER, Nov. 8.—The clothing strike which has been on in this city for nearly three months is at an end. The strikers who remained in the city after the general exodus a few weeks ago have gone back to work under the old terms.

Will Try It Again.

LONDON, Nov. 8.—It is announced here that Mexico's conversion of her interior debt is so successful that the government will ask the chambers to authorize a second issue to complete the consolidation of the whole debt.

DR. SWEET,

No Change in Policy.

Now York, Nov. 8.—Mayor Strong yesterday settled any doubts that may have arisen from the statement of Dr. Parkhurst that the mayor would attempt to influence Commissioner Roosevelt to "go easy" on the matter of enforcement of the liquor law, and, failing in this, would attempt to oust him. The mayor said: "Mr. Roosevelt will hold the office he holds now just as long as he wants to."

An Alabama Tragedy.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 8.—J. H. Hayes, a prominent farmer, yesterday shot and killed Michael and Henry Harper, brothers and tenants of his plantation, near Roxana, Twyla, before when Hayes attempted to collect overdue rent he was driven from his field by the Harpers with shotguns, they claiming that he had not lived up to his contract. Yesterday he visited them a third time and demanded the rent, and when they attempted to again drive him off, he shot them. Hayes has not been arrested. He claims self-defense.
